Comments on revised Management Action Plan regarding the Ombla hydropower plant

Given that the Ombla loan is cancelled and that the recommendations are of a more general nature, the only comment we would have is that if the planned guidelines are not to be part of the new Environmental and Social Policy itself, then the other documents containing the guidelines need to be publicly available.

If such documents are not public, it will be extremely difficult for potential future complainants to the PCM to know whether the bank is in compliance with the guidelines or not and this will make it difficult to write well-grounded and informed complaints.
